Welcome

W20 FOUNDATION

Founded on Long Island in 2007 by former NY Islander Steve Webb, the W20 Foundation is committed to creating an environment where our youth athletes and others want to partake in community service and surround themselves with other like-minded, positive people who care about social responsibility.

In 2011, the Foundation launched Project Team Up 4 Community (TU4C). TU4C engages and empowers youth athletes and others to initiate community service projects through its online challenges. The platform also provides them with an interactive set of resources to advocate and promote their social responsibility amongst their peers, family, schools, organizations, and communities.

TU4C serves as a central hub and a launching pad to help develop new programs to meet athletes, organizations, and community needs.

Since the launch of Project Team Up 4 Community, the Foundation has recorded an estimated economic impact of over $16 Million Dollars Nationwide! On Long Island alone, there have been 150,357 Youth Athletes who have participated in over 2,475 Community Service Projects and have performed 559,721 Hours of Community Service Work.

Team Up 4 Community's Online Challenges are making community service contagious!

Our goal this year is to raise money to further advance the Team Up 4 Community online interactive platform and mobile application throughout Long Island, New York State Public High Schools, CYO of Long Island and across North America within the Hockey Community.

Thanks to our youth athletes service more of our fellow Long Islanders in need have warm coats to wear, toys for their children at the holidays, food to place on the table and not to mention the incredible contributions they have made towards important medical issues. Together we can inspire more of our youth to partake in social responsibility and influence millions of dollars of community service through athletics.

With Team Up 4 Community, all athletes are invited to engage in community service and create a ripple effect of social responsibility by participating in the challenges and using this instrumental platform.

Your support from this Golf Outing can lend a strong hand in aiding the Foundation to further the growth of these youth athletes' community service projects and education; expanding the number of individuals and lives they can impact, as well as their own. More importantly, community service instills in them a personal responsibility to contribute to their own development and the community that supports them!

"Similar to athletics, volunteering helps build character and self-esteem in young people, while simultaneously helping make a difference in the lives of others,"

-- Steve Webb Founder W20 Foundation & Project Team Up 4 Community
